SIERRA MADRE, CALIFORNIA — TUESDAY, NOV. 24, 1959

8 PAGES — Vol. 53, No. 7

THE TOWN'S FLOAT, admittedly, doesn't look too stunning at present, but it is expected to be a prize winner when completed. Entitled The Birds and the Bees, Sierra Madre entry in the Rose Parade will have a stork, revolving bees and other animals to depict the parade theme, Teles, Tall and True. Shown in the driver's seat are Mrs. Bert Menne and Mrs. William Waite, co-chairmen in charge of the Rose Sale on Saturday, Nov. 28, and the following Saturday, Dec. 5. Girls who will sell the roses will meet this Friday at 11 a.m. in the Park House. Manuel de la Torre and Ralph Rule, of float construction, are shown in the rear.

City of Hope Honors Two Local Residents

Mrs. George L. Russell, 514 Santa Anita Ct., and Harold Pangborn, 442 Mariposa, were among 70 San Gabriel Valley men and women who were honored for outstanding service in the Volunteer Aide Corps of the City of Hope at an award luncheon Thursday, Nov. 19, at the free, nonsectarian medical center.

Louis Tabak, president of the City of Hope, presented the awards in recognition of vital services performed by the volunteers in laboratories, offices and other areas of the specialized medical center.

Schnabel Is Purchase Prize Winner

David Schnabel's "Night Warrior" is the winner of the fifth annual Purchase Prize show now on exhibit in the Sierra Madre Library.

Votes for the Schnabel painting were about triple the number cast for the runner-up, "Still Life," by Bentley Schaad. Robert Frame received honorable mention for his painting, "Desert Road."

Mr. Schnabel is well known in this area. He has exhibited at the Library Gallery in three invitational Purchase Prize shows (1955-57-59) and had a one-man show in the Gallery in 1958.

HE HAS exhibited from coast to coast in the United States: Brooklyn Museum of Art (1950-51), Seattle Art Museum (1950-51), Seligman Galleries in New York (1948), Los Angeles County Art Museum (1952-54-55-57), and Palos Verdes Invitational (1957-58-59), to name a few.

Schnabel has won three other purchase prize awards besides this one. They are Pasadena Art Museum (1953), National Orange Show (1956), and Barnsdale Park (1959).

THE GUEST artist in the Library Gallery for December will be David Metzgar. The show will be comprised of watercolors.

Mr. Metzgar, now teaching at Pasadena City College, studied at UCLA and Los Angeles State College. He has exhibited at the Los Angeles County Museum, Pasadena Art Museum, De Young Museum, Long Beach Art Center, Pomona College, San Diego Art Museum, and Richmond Art Museum.

There will be a reception for the artist in the Gallery of the Sierra Madre Library on Sunday, Dec. 6, from 3 to 5 p.m. to which the public is invited.

Rescue Crew Saves Five in Mountains

Hikers Hauled to Safety with Ropes

Skilled rope work by members of the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Crew was responsible Sunday for saving five persons stranded in the mountains near Chantry Flats.

The first rescue was made at about 9:30 a.m. Sunday after a car which had broken into four pieces was spotted entirely got lost while hiking out of the Wilderness Park area.

He was found by Arcadia police, bruised and scratched, but otherwise uninjured.

On Nov. 11, Brock Curry, 12, of 515 Monterey Rd., South Pasadena, was taken from the Winter Creek area, below Chantry, suffering a broken leg. Bill Adams brought the boy out in a Forest Service truck.

ROBERT, EARL and Edward La Lone and James Parsons lowered a litter and then went down the mountain themselves on ropes. Gates was placed on the litter and hauled up.

The youth went over the cliff at about 2 a.m. Sunday and was stranded for more than seven hours before he was rescued. He was reported in good condition, however, at Sierra Madre Hospital.

At the time of the first rescue, other members of the squad were practicing with ropes on Mt. Pacifico, behind Mt. Wilson, under the leadership of Fred La Lone.

They returned just in time to be called in the rescue of four persons in the canyon below Chantry, at about 4:30 p.m.

THE FOUR, John Di Gregorio, 21, Mike Malenky, 21, both of Pico Rivera; Dolores Ellen Janeway, 18, also of Pico Rivera, and Sharon Hartman, 17, of Whittier, decided to take a shortcut on the way up to Chantry from the canyon.

About 250 feet below the road they crawled onto a cliff and couldn't move, either up or down.

In the fast-fading twilight, the Rescue Crew lowered ropes and several members were hoisted down to the cliff. Secured by ropes, the hikers were hauled to safety. Although badly frightened, none of the four was hurt.

Participating in this rescue were Fred and Earl La Lone, James Parsons, Grant Raddon, Hubert Herrick, Bill Adams and Bill Wark. Ralph Shangraw from the Forest Service also helped.

THE CREW was also called Sunday to stand by in case they were needed to find John Swyke, 16, of 339 E. Laurel, Arcadia, who appar-

Park Plan Committee Is Named

A committee to draw up plans for the development of Sierra Vista Park was appointed last week at a meeting of the Parks and Recreation Commission in the Youth Hut.

The committee will study and evaluate the plan for park development, as prepared by Recreation Director Dave Sommers, and also make independent suggestions. Tentative park plans were outlined in the Sierra Madre News in the Nov. 9 edition.

NAMED TO the committee were Arthur Albertson, School Board representative; James Abernethy, city councilman, and George Fleming, a Recreation Commission member. They will report at the group's January meeting.

A special committee also was named to study and evaluate the summer recreation program. Members are Al Foxton, Mrs. Margaret Anthony and William Hawkins. They also will report in January.

OTHER ITEMS discussed at the meeting included plans for three new tennis courts in Sierra Vista Park. The local Tennis Club was represented by LeRoy Toms, president. He was asked to present a report in writing.

The Recreation Commission will make its semi-annual inspection of recreation facilities on Dec. 12. Members will visit Memorial and Sierra Vista Parks, the Sierra Mesa School playgrounds, and the old canyon swimming pool area.

Local Girl PCC Class President

A Sierra Madre girl has been elected president of the freshman class at Pasadena City College.

She is Charlotte Fedde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold W. Fedde, 51 Rancho Road.

A graduate of Pasadena High School, Charlotte was vice president of the student body, National Merit finalist, president of Auroras, Kiwanis award winner, and secretary for the Pasadena Area Youth Council.

Charlotte is majoring in life science at PCC and eventually hopes to become a surgical nurse. One of her main interests is music. She is assistant organist at Hill Avenue Grace Lutheran Church where she also is president of the College League.

She and other PCC students recently returned from the three-day convention of the California Junior College Student Government Association at the Claremont Hotel in Oakland.

Message of Thanks

(It is particularly appropriate on this Thanksgiving Day in 1959 to express our gratitude for the bountiful life that is ours as residents of the delightful town of Sierra Madre, as citizens of the United States and as members of the world community. We at the Sierra Madre News sincerely thank all our loyal readers and express the hope that the banner of independent journalism will, with your help, fly forever. The following message of gratitude was wholeheartedly endorsed by our civic leaders. It was composed by Col. Walter D. Thurber who, on the rolls of good citizenship, must certainly take his place near the top of the list.—Ed.)

We believe that we express the thoughts of the great majority of the people of Sierra Madre when we voice our gratitude to Divine Providence for the showering of so many blessings upon our community. Space will not permit the listing of all of them but among them are:

The spiritual inspiration provided by our numerous churches of various denominations and their dedicated leadership.

The sense of community service which prevails in our City Council, our Volunteer Fire Department, our Search and Rescue Team, our School Board, our Library Board, and other civic groups which serve us without compensation.

The excellence of our community newspaper — the Sierra Madre News — which rates high among the weekly newspapers of Southern California.

The quality of our water supply provided so adequately from the mountains on our northern boundary.

Our medical and hospital facilities and the extensive service given by our beautiful library and our excellent elementary schools.

The convenience of our shopping area and the several nearby parking areas available without charge.

And, above all, the spirit of neighborliness which prevails generally in our town.

For all of these things, and more, we are indeed truly grateful.

Signed by:

David Roess, acting president, Chamber of Commerce.

Wm. M. Waite, president, Lions Club.
Katherine Albertson, president, Civic Club.
Mary Beutler, president, Garden Club.
Larry C. Lomax, chapter chairman, American Red Cross.

Dr. Milton Valois, president, Kiwanis.
Mrs. Carl Cheadle, president, Coordinating Council.

Mrs. M. H. Harris, president, Woman's Club.
Mr. and Mrs. James Dunnagan, co-presidents, Parent-Teacher Assn.

Seek Help On Yule Trimmings

Another call for volunteers to help decorate Sierra Madre for the Christmas season was sounded yesterday by the Civic Club.

At least 50 men are needed on Nov. 28 and 29, starting at 10 a.m., to help spruce up Sierra Madre under the new program developed jointly by the Civic Club and the Chamber of Commerce.

Plans call for 65 life-sized figures plus garlands and silver Christmas bells to adorn the business district.

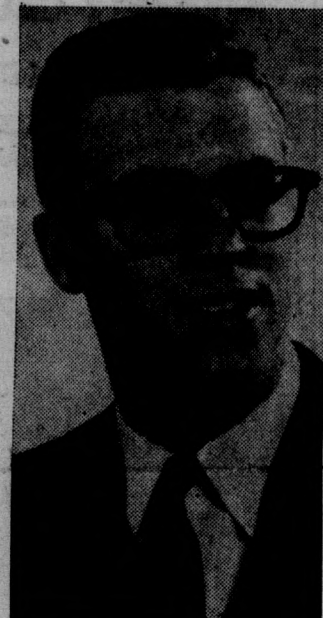

FIGURES of Santa Claus, pixies and card singers will be spotted along main the main streets, and lights, tinsel and evergreens will be placed on store fronts.

At the entrance to Sierra Madre Blvd. will be several 8-foot high candles which have been obtained from the city of Santa Barbara.

Kersting Ct. will be the site of the Nativity Scene, under the direction of Mrs. Harold Roberts.

THE OLD Safeway building is work headquarters. Volunteers should report there by 10 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 28, and Sunday, Nov. 29. Mrs. Wayne Hartwell, ELgin 5-0983, is chairman.

Workers also are needed to help construct Sierra Madre's entry in the 1960 Tournament of Roses.

DOUGLAS DELAHOKE, 303 E. Montecito, has been named an associate in the real estate and insurance office of Harry Lange here. Mr. Delahooke, whose wife, Jane, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lange, will handle the insurance end of the business. Both Mr. Delahooke and his wife were graduated last June from the University of California at Berkeley. Mr. Delahooke took business administration and majored in insurance. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Russell Delahooke, 1240 Hastings Ranch Dr., Pasadena.

CHAMBER MEETING

The Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors will elect new officers at their meeting Dec. 8 at 8 a.m. in the First Western Bank.

New Prize System Urged for Art Show

By Howard Whalen

The fifth Purchase Prize Exhibit of paintings by 22 California artists is now on view at the Sierra Madre Library Gallery and will remain through Dec. 4.

This is one of the best "invitations" we've had and, with but one or two exceptions, I believe the painters were conscientious in their selections for this show, in spite of the relatively small purchase award of $400.

There is a fair "spread" of schools and techniques. There are a couple of bad paintings, a couple of pretty liberal ones, and several that I couldn't get.

THREE PAINTINGS were recommended for purchase by a jury composed of David Metzgar, Ernest Freed and Don Coonan. From these three the public will select one to be purchased and presented to the library. The jury recommended the paintings of Robert Frame, Bentley Schaad and David Schnabel, all familiar names to local gallery goers.

Of the three paintings, I suspect that Robert Frame's "Desert Road" is the best painting. However, it's a little beyond me and I'll have to go along with David Schnabel's "Night Warrior" which is beautifully drawn and painted, and though a bit illustrative, has a "big" feeling. Of Bentley Schaad's "Still Life," I feel that he paints much too conservatively. His compositions and colors are so controlled that he allows himself no area for spontaneous expression. This is a pleasant and colorful picture, nevertheless.

Along with Schnabel's "Night Warrior," I'd pick Roger Kuntz's "Large Boat" for most popular paintings. This painting is a real turn-about for Kuntz. A fairly standard treatment of a marine theme, with a strong three-dimensional quality skillfully done. Roger was going along so surely in the opposite direction—perhaps he considers this a "return-to-the-basics" painting.

THREE OTHER paintings which I enjoyed particularly were: Douglas McClellan's "The Garden," a witty colorful, patterned canvas; James Strombotne's bold, spirited "The Dream," and Bob Ellis' clean "Spacecape No. 7."

BUYING THE FIRST ticket to the 39th annual Fireman's Dance, Dec. 12 at the Woman's Clubhouse, is Byron Hopper, local jeweler who has been in business at 11 Kersting Ct. for 20 years. Giving Mr. Hopper the ticket is, from left, Fred Richter, Chief Charles Brown and James Clark. Firemen will sell tickets throughout Sierra Madre in the next few weeks and all buyers will receive, in addition, a sticker which can be attached near the phone for a handy reference to police and fire telephone numbers. Mr. Hopper, incidentally, is moving his store this week to 74 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., the spot formerly occupied by Ira Fox's Barber Shop.

Soup to Nonsense . . .

Lords of Creation

By Jane Goodsell

O men are the lords of creation. Their intellect quotient is high. Their reasoning powers are much higher than ours, as I'd be the last to deny.

They understand motors and turbines, Kilowatts, fuses and volts: And they can tell a car that is English By taking a look at its bolts.

They grasp what they read in the papers, However complex it may be: They understand sports and financial reports And global diplomacy.

They know who will win the World Series, They're never unsure or perplexed. About split-T information, the cure for inflation Or who will be president next.

(So wouldn't you think that a person who can recall every tiny detail about the Baer-Semelting fight could remember that you asked him at breakfast to pick up a loaf of bread on his way home?)

O men are superior beings, On that I am sure we're agreed. They're stalwart and stoic and very heroic, They're clearly the best of the breed.

They've presence of mind in a crisis, They don't have irrational fears, They seldom take fright at sounds in the night, And they never dissolve into tears.

When war comes, they shoulder their muskets, And bravely march off to enlist. They can disarm a bomb with finesse and aplomb And a debonair flick of the wrist.

Their courage is simply fantastic. They fear neither burglars nor bears Or rattlesnakes, fire or high-voltage wire Or bogeyman lurking upstairs.

(And this being so, why do they turn pale and clutch their collars and gaze wildly about with panic-stricken eyes just because they find themselves in the ladies' ready-to-wear department, helping you pick out a new winter coat.)

Their mechanical aptitude's wondrous, Their fingers are nimble and quick. They can tune your De Soto or retouch your photo Or fashion a chimney of brick.

They can build you a new set of uppers, Pick change from your pocket or purse, Remove your appendix or fix up your Bendix; Their talents are highly diverse.

As jewel thieves, they're light-fingered experts. As tailors, they're much in demand. They can jimmy a lock or repair an old clock Or light up a match with one hand.

At diamond-cutting, they're dextrous. As forgers, they're skilled with a pen. There is no other sex so adroit and complex. O there's no one as deft as the men.

(So why can't they zip up the back of your dress without getting the zipper stuck?)

OUR POSTMAN

So slow to come, so quick to go
Our postman's step is gay.
A small transistor radio
Sings him on his way.

He brings a magazine or two,
The papers and the bills,
The news of things the homefolks do
And news of home folk ill.

He always brings a pleasant smile
And cheery greetings, too,
But best of all, he brings the while
Those messages from you.

The mail's speeding flow
Just start the task our postman ends
Quick-stepped by radio.

Who's Going to Tell Us?

The old payola is front page news these days. The disc jockey and the TV quiz shows are getting their just reward.

But, I wonder, who is going to criticize the critic? The newspapers are almost immune, since they gather and release almost all the news in this land, including most of those thumb-nail reports we receive via television and radio.

Are newspapers subject to the payola, too, either in hard cash or in reciprocal favoritism? Alas, we'll probably never know. Who's going to tell us?—H.W.E.

HALF-PAST TEEN

Lee Shippey asks
What Do You Think?

This is the time of year when alumni associations scream for the scalps of all football coaches who have not been lucky enough to produce winning teams. I say "lucky enough," for this season has shown that luck has more to do with it than science. Alumni associations seem to believe that great coaches make great football players, when the fact is that great football players make great coaches.

Only a year ago Coach Duffy Dougherty of Michigan State was reportedly offered a coaching job in Texas which, together with a radio program, would have netted him $65,000 for a few months' work, but this year Duffy didn't have as good material and his record is comparatively so unimpressive one doubts that any other school would think of offering him more than one-third that much.

OUT OF THE COBWEBS

41 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Nov. 22, 1918—About 20 young people of Sierra Madre and Los Angeles, chaperoned by Miss Portia Ulrich, spent the weekend near Fern Lodge.

Sierra Madre Free Public Library Board included George B. Morgridge, Mrs. E. T. Pierce, Mrs. L. E. Steinberger, Mr. J. Potter and Donald C. Ashmore.

20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Nov. 17, 1939—William L. Burr was installed as president of the Kiwanis Club.

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary of Temple Beth Israel were entertained by Mrs. Samuel Levinson at a social gathering at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Westerfield and Mrs. Fred Klink were members of the cast in the Minstrel Show at Monrovia High School.

10 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Nov. 24, 1949—Dr. and Mrs. John L. Woehler and Sonny, 718 Montecito, spent the holiday weekend traveling in Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Colt went to Palm Springs for a vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Colbert of N. Baldwin returned from a weekend at Yosemite.

5 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Nov. 26, 1954—Mr. and Mrs. Noren Eaton, 145 E. Alegria, and their daughter, Cindy, enjoyed the holiday at the Kemper Campbell North Verde Ranch in Victorville.

Rev. and Mrs. Raynor Smith, 695 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., and their children, Garrett, Glendon and Louayne, spent Thanksgiving with friends in Encinitas.

Margaret Woodworth, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Phillip R. Woodworth, 522 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., was one of 11 tapped for Cap and Gown at Stanford.

YET DUFFY feels lucky as he thinks of the coach at his cross-state rival, University of Michigan. There the same coach who was rated as one of the greatest a year ago has such a lousy record that even Tom Harmon of CBS can hardly find words of praise for "mighty Michigan."

Michigan, however, can feel consoled when it looks at Notre Dame. Last year Notre Dame fired a coach because his team wasn't one of the top three and hired a pro, with the result that now Notre Dame is barely one of the top 15.

Practically all the coaches who get fired can trace their decapitation directly to alumni associations, which seem to be organized for the purpose of bringing a lot of bribes and talent-stealing "sportsmen" together in a most unsportsmanlike association. Many of its activities may be fine, but in football season a badly accurate figure of speech would be: "As unsportsmanlike as an alumni association."

MANY PERSONS become rich or famous or powerful without ever being held in affectionate respect by half as many persons as loved and admired Mrs. Maude Rikeman.

Mr. and Mrs. Rikeman established a business in Sierra Madre which wasn't very big but was definitely important to all of us and to the city, for it had distinction as well as friendliness which made everyone who dropped in there, even if only to buy a birthday card, feel a little more liking and respect for Sierra Madre.

Often our little children went there to choose birthday cards for their mothers, or for other children, and took a lot of time and sometimes got in the way of other shoppers, but they always knew they could count on

Around the Square

By Tommy-Ann Miller

This incident happened recently at a local grocery store (and is recorded in hopes of enlightening the Lady in The Case—whom-ever she is).

Four times within a few minutes, a lady shopper bumped her grocery cart into a cart propelled by a man shopping. One past the cheese counter, whoops!—bang! over by the shoe polish—crash! near the coffee section. When she hit him head-on for the fourth time near the canned goods, he decided she must be getting friendly—or something. The resultant conversation went something like this:

"How's your front end?" he asked, inspecting her cart.

"Fine, how's yours?" she replied.

"Haven't seen you shop here before," said he. "New in town?"

"No," she replied, "I shop here frequently."

"Married?" he asked.

"No," she said, "Are You?"

The man said "No," and they chatted amiably about food, etc., for several seconds—when all of a sudden (in front of the applesauce) she turned on him and loudly announced, "I don't know what your INTENTIONS are, young man, but I'll have you know that I'm not the sort—etc., etc., etc."

Stunned by the unprovoked verbal slap, the man slid down inside his jacket and blushed off to the check-stand.

(He wishes to assure the lady that he had absolutely NO intentions—other than to indulge in a little market camaraderie.)

SANDY SPOT. The shifting sands of Algo Dones—a paradise for Rockhounds and desert-o-philes—was the weekend campsite (near Yuma) for the Lester Anthony family, trailer, tent and Coleman stove.

THE GRANDCHILD score for Loren and Dorothy Jenkins now stands at: one grandson, four granddaughters—with the arrival of Nancy Jane Jenkins, Nov. 10. The 7-pound, 11-ounce brunette bundle is the daughter of Dick and Mae Jenkins of Glendora, former Sierra Madreans.

CONSCIENCE CARD. Anxious to STICK to a diet, a local taxpayer tacked a reminder on his wallet. It notes the weight (circled in red) he hopes to pare down to—and his reasons for wanting to get skinnier: "Surfing, Climbing, Health, Money."

ROGER ARMSTRONG'S cultivating another beard—this time for the lead role as the "General" in Peter Ustinov's "Romanoff and Juliet." The Laguna Beach Playhouse production runs Dec. 3, 4 and 5 and 10, 11 and 12.

SEWER SIZE-UP. In case your property is overrun with agile men bearing tapes and enormous rulers, etc., don't panic—it's only the crew measuring for sewers (eventually, why not now?)—and they've been at it for three months. (There is no plan afoot to re-route the proposed Foothill Freeway along Grand View, as one citizen feared.)

NOTE FROM ex-mayor W. A. Kinney—happy and busy with his family in Walnut Creek, Calif. He says daughter Jackie has four sons now. Bill has two boys and Maholou has a little son, almost enough for a team).

DIE-HARD foreign car owners refer to the compact "Corvair," Chevrolet's answer to sports cars, as the "Shrivel-A."

OLYMPICS—The official opening date of the World Olympics in Rome, Italy, has been set as Thursday, Aug. 25, 1960. The official closing time would be Sunday, Sept. 11, 1960. Rome expects a great number of tourists this year on account of this event. Tickets to all the events of the Olympics travel agencies in the United States. A good idea would be to join a tour which includes the Olympic Games, thus saving you the trouble of obtaining the tickets and accommodations in Rome. Are now on sale through the

The Rikemans were efficient and they had good taste, but the impression both of them made most of all was of nearness. We cannot remember them without realizing how even a comparatively small business can become one of the things which make one love a community.

Your Congressman . . .

Relates Tales Tall and True

By Edgar W. Hiestand Rep. 21st District

Posing as a harried husband, which I often am, I walked into a supermarket in the San Fernando Valley. I was determined to get everything on the list for once, but at the same time, I was preoccupied with the political problems which are always topmost in my mind.

Grabbing a grocery cart I made my way down an aisle. I glanced at my list. "Pickles," it said, so I looked for the pickle counter. As I arrived so did a housewife. We reached at the same time. "Oh, pardon me," I said and she smiled which encouraged me to ask, "Aren't these a couple of pennies more than the last time?" "Oh, no," she answered. "These are down a cent. In fact, prices have been pretty steady lately. In fact, they've been pretty steady for several years."

THAT MORE or less settled the question of food prices so as I moved on to the meat counter to pick up some pork chops, I thought of my next question and looked for another likely representative of public opinion. I found one; a big fellow who looked as though he'd had plenty of pork chops lately. We struck up a conversation and finally I popped the question: "What do you think of the steel strike?" I got a few hundred words in reply. "I'm making $2.85 an hour," he said. "The steel workers make about $3.50. I know darn well those guys have mortgages and car payments just like the rest of us. You can't tell me they wanted this strike. If they'd had a chance to vote on it, there wouldn't be any strike. Somebody ought to do something about it." (I asked the same question of two other people and got roughly the same reply from each.)

THEN I MOSIED on over to the produce department to get some lettuce. After a get-acquainted preliminary (but without disclosing my job), I asked a housewife her opinion of income taxes. "Too high for working people," she said. "If the government really wants to help us, they should cut out those stupid bureaus and projects and let us keep our money."

A thoughtful and wiser Congressman, I paid the cashier and went on my way. "Can't you get what I put on the list? Just once?" asked Berenice.

Ascension Church to Hold Harvest Home Festival

On Thanksgiving Day the Church of the Ascension will observe Harvest Home Festival with procession and sung mass at 10 a.m.

Presentation of canned goods for the benefit of the Episcopal Church Home for Children will be made by adults and children of the parish.

The choir, under the direction of David Billeter, will offer special music appropriate to the occasion.

THE DAY before Thanksgiving, the children of the Parish Day School will hold their special Thanksgiving Day services in the church, with presentation of canned goods, followed by a program in the Parish Hall.

Rev. Yu At Bethany

Rev. Stanley Yu, evangelist for the Chinese Native Evangelistic Crusade, will speak at Bethany Church this Sunday at 7 p.m. Mr. Yu has been an evangelist for over 20 years in China and the United States.

Rev. Yu

He is now traveling through the United States preparatory to his return to the Far East.

After graduating from the Christian and Missionary Alliance Seminary in South China, Dr. Yu preached in that area for three years, serving without salary and in dependence only upon God. Hundreds became Christians through his ministry at this time.

Evangelist Sets 10-Day Mission At Nazarene

Evangelist Kenneth Wells of Whitefish, Mont., is conducting a 10-day mission of "Teaching Evangelism" at the Sierra Madre Church of the Nazarene, of which Dr. Orian G. Burlison is the pastor.

Services will be held each evening (except Saturdays) at 7:30 and on Sundays at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., from Nov. 25 through Dec. 6.

Mr. Wells combines teaching and preaching, as well as a ministry in music, in his presentation of Gospel truth. His general theme is "Christ's Complete Redemption for the Earth and Man." He shows how the facts of science and the teachings of the Bible are in perfect accord, and that Jesus Christ, Who has provided full salvation from sin for man, will also one day completely deliver the earth from the curse and presence of sin.

Mr. Wells has written a book on science and the Bible entitled "The Earth, Its Origin, History and Destiny."

Dr. Orian G. Burlison, pastor of the Sierra Madre Church of the Nazarene, located at 191 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., invites the public to attend.

Children Should Know What the Church Meant to Their Forefathers

It is laudable to have children of these United States impressed with the history of the Nation by having them take part in plays and pageants such as the Thanksgiving of the Pilgrims depicted above. It is also fitting to have the birthday anniversaries of the nation's great men so celebrated in schools and even kindergartens.

It is important that all children should have impressed upon their minds the heroic part the early settlers played in building America. It is also important that they should know of the role played by the Church and of how it influenced their deeds and actions. They should know that all early settlers braved tremendous hardships to come to America and remain, though many of them succumbed within a short time from the rigors of their new life. By such teaching the children may gain the knowledge and the spiritual experience of the sustaining help attendance at Church can mean in their lives and what they owe the Church for their heritage.

With the hope that it will, in some measure, foster and help sustain that which is good in family and community life, this feature is sponsored by the business firms and organizations whose names appear in this space.

Hellebore Is Ideal Cool Weather Plant

With most flowers, warming weather and longer days bring out the blooms. With members of the Hellebore family—Christmas Rose, Lenten Rose and Corsican Hellebore—it's just the opposite. Give them cool weather and shorter days and they start busting out all over.

All of which makes these contrary plants a delightful addition to the winter garden. From December to April, one or all of them is likely to be in bloom. And wet weather harms them not at all. They hold their blossoms high through the heaviest downpour. Members of the California Association of Nurserymen claim you can't help but love Hellebores, and once you've grown them, you will agree.

THE MOST striking thing about the Hellebore family are the colors of their blossoms. The Christmas Rose shows masses of two-inch cups on single stems that are mainly white, but often tend to purplish hues. Lenten Rose bears several blossoms to a stem and can be found in a myriad of off-beat colors. Flowers are primarily greenish to purple or purple-rose. But pink, white and maroon flowers are occasionally to be found. Corsican Hellebore—largest of the three—bears clusters of pale green flowers like nothing you've ever seen. The Hellebores are perennials with evergreen foliage that is attractive the year round if not planted where summer sun is overpowering. Christmas and Lenten Roses seldom grow to more than a foot and a half high, but Corsican Hellebore is three feet and most shrublike in appearance. The deeply cut leaves vary in size by variety, but all are eye-catching.

IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA gardens, Christmas and Lenten Roses are less often found than are the Corsican Hellebore.

C.A.N. nurserymen report, however, that both will adapt well if given an acid soil, shaded areas and plenty of water. Since these are their requirements anywhere, we can't see any reason for not trying them in practically all corners of our state.

People who aim to do good in this life seldom miss the target.

Lutherans to Mark New Church Year

Lighting of the first candle in the Advent wreath will mark the beginning of the new church year at Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church, 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., at 10 a.m. Sunday, Nov. 29.

The sermon for the first Sunday in Advent by the Rev. Ray E. Hansen, pastor, will be "Getting Ready for Christmas."

Annual meeting of the congregation will follow at 7 p.m. that evening (Nov. 29). After a potluck supper, children will be entertained with movies while the adults consider the 1960 budget, elect five councilmen for three-year terms and hear reports from presidents of church organizations and committee chairmen.

Presentation of a church site will highlight the reports.

Councilmen whose terms expire, but are eligible for election, are Karl Heimbrich, Charles E. Abbe, Frank M. Distel, Frank M. Mosier and Henry R. Nelson.

Temple Center To Present U.J.A. Awards

Rabbi Charles W. Steckel of the Foothill Jewish Community Center, Temple Beth Israel, will talk on "Thanksgiving" Friday at 8:30 p.m. The sermon will be followed by presentation of the U.J.A. awards to members of the Temple Center.

Hosts for the "Oneg Shabbat" are Mr. and Mrs. Hy Goldfarb, honoring their anniversary.

Your Health . . .

Most Catalepsy Cases Emotional in Nature

service by the Foothill District of the Los Angeles County Medical Assn.)

QUESTION—For about 10 years I've been afflicted with catalepsy and I would like to know if there is any cure for it?—K.A.

ANSWER—For the benefit of our readers, catalepsy is a term of Greek origin which means "seized upon." It describes a condition which is characterized by periodic attacks of rigidity of the arms and legs, occasionally resulting in the patient assuming a statue-like posture. During the attacks the individual remains motionless and speechless but does not lose consciousness. He appears to be in a dreamy state. There is a loss of all sensation with the exception of the sense of touch of the eyeball. The reflexes are usually absent.

Most cases of catalepsy are upon an emotional or hysterical basis. Occasionally they are due to lesions or diseases of the brain and central nervous system, particularly tumors, hemorrhages or inflammations of the brain covering.

Treatment of the functional type of catalepsy, which is thought to be secondary to a hysterical state, is psychotherapy. Treatment of catalepsy due to organic brain disease is exceedingly more difficult, but if possible, removal of the organic lesion is indicated.

Q—Is there anything I can do for neuritis in my legs and thighs? Surgery has been advised.—L.M.

A—Because there are several types of neuritis which could pain in the thighs and legs, the panel cannot offer a specific answer to your question.

Neuritis (irritation or inflammation of a nerve) can assume numerous forms, according to cause, pathology, location and number of nerves involved. Your statement that surgery has been advised leads us to think that perhaps your particular type of neuritis is due to pressure on the nerves. If this is true, surgical removal of the condition causing the pressure should offer reasonable certainty of relief.

Without more facts on which to base an opinion, it is impossible to give you a more satisfactory answer in this column.

Q—What causes genital burning?—P.H.

A—Genital burning and irritation can arise from two general causes—systemic or local. Systemic causes include diabetes, generalized allergies and urinary and bowel infections. Among local causes are reactions to various soaps, regionally applied drugs or ointments, vaginal infections, infections of the mouth of the uterus and hemorrhoids.

Many times the condition is simply due to advanced age with corresponding shrinkage or atrophic changes in the genital tissues. Detection of the exact cause of this condition would require careful physical and pelvic examinations with laboratory tests of local secretions.

Lee Ellerbrock To Preside at Schweitzer Meet

Lee Ellerbrock, president of the Fellows for Schweitzer, will discuss the life and thought of Dr. Albert Schweitzer at 8 o'clock tonight (Tuesday) at the home of Mrs. Edward Decker, 431 E. Montecito.

Mr. Ellerbrock, who lives at 501 E. Montecito, also will show colored filmstrip slides of Erica Anderson's film, "Albert Schweitzer."

RED CROSS FILM

A Red Cross movie on the uses of blood, "Prescription for Life," will be shown at the meeting of the Coordinating Council tonight (Tuesday) at 8 o'clock in the Sierra Madre School. The film answers questions frequently asked about what happens to blood after it is donated. The Bloodmobile is coming to Sierra Madre Dec. 14.

ETHICAL CULTURE

Guest speaker at the Foot-hill Society for Ethical Culture Sunday, Nov. 29, at 293 N. Euclid, Pasadena, will be Dr. Frank W. Thomas, president emeritus of Fresno State College. He will speak on "Ethics Begins With Choice." Dr. Thomas is the father of Franklin Thomas, Pasadena, finance chairman of the society.

Richard Haines I would like to see explode once or twice. His "understatement" demands so much from the viewer in a gallery full of other "voices." He designs and paints so well, I'm sure his paintings hold their own on the wall of a home where, after all, paintings are designed to hang.

Zorthian has gotten away from his caricature-like feeling and is painting more abstractly in his "Conflux, Black, Brown."

I don't see much excuse for Flavio Cabral's "Colonial Kitchen;" he's not an old man. Jae Carmichael has tried something over her head. Her watercolors are much better. "Birdland" by Herrica Hartmetz is way below par. I think she is one of the best women painters in Southern California and one of the few women who know what they are doing when painting in the abstract. I'm sorry that she didn't compete more strongly for the purchase award.

I BELIEVE that it is possible to understand a painter and still not be able to get what he is painting. That is, to appreciate his attack but not his results. That is how I feel about the paintings in this show of Bob Frame, Keith Finch and Susan Lautmann Hertel. I believe in their approach but the results don't reach my inner-eye.

Of the paintings by William Brice and Edgar Ewing, I neither understand nor appreciate and wouldn't have

VILLA VIEWS

By Toni Maurin
SYcamore 7-8634

As Thanksgiving draws near we could do well to reflect on how very fortunate we as a people are in this bountiful country of ours.

With time payments and credit cards nothing is beyond the reach of practically every voting citizen in the United States. We have so many luxuries at our fingertips that we forget our blessings. We forget to look at the sky and the stars, and when we do, we see the moon and wonder what country is going to get there first. We forget the land and the wealth it produces in food, clothing and warmth for this mighty nation.

We see it as a valuable piece of real estate and wonder if there is oil or uranium beneath its surface. We forget our friends and neighbors and when we see them we wonder if they can come for cocktails, not to share our bread. This is the time to take the time to remember how far we have come, and to ask ourselves, "Where do we really want to go and what do we really want to do?"

MR. AND MRS. David Phillip of Sierra Madre Villa have sold their home and have moved temporarily to Sierra Madre. Their new address will be 197 W. Montecito.

MR. AND MRS. H. C. Tumilty are planning a Thanksgiving dinner at home this year. Their guests will be their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. David Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Tumilty and their children and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kanak and their son and daughter.

MR. AND MRS. Joseph Phelps of Old House Rd. are planning on a family Thanksgiving at the home of Mrs. Phelps' mother in Long Beach.

DR. AND MRS. Lincoln Wilson recently entertained at a cocktail party honoring Mr. and Mrs. William Rader, who recently moved here from New York. There were 50 guests.

DR. AND MRS. Kenneth Gardner of Mesita Rd. are happy to announce the birth of their son on Nov. 11, or Armed Services Day. He weighed 8 pounds, 8 ounces, and was named Kenneth James. All of the Gardner children have been born on a holiday. Their 11½-year-old daughter was born on taken a second look but for their impressive reputations.

I think that the front runners in the arts today are digging deeper into the art or "science" of expression. Their works are closer to the laboratory and consequently not as readily grasped by the sophisticated mind. They are creating more in the "manner" of nature, giving the elements and tools of their trade more "head."

This, in theory, should produce a more direct bridge between the artist and viewer and, I believe, will when we viewers learn to approach art with the same receptiveness or naivete with which we approach the beauties of nature.

AS A TEMPORARY critic, invited by a member of the Exhibits Committee, I believe it my prerogative and duty to attack the heart of this exhibit—the $400 purchase prize.

The amount is not nearly enough for a first rate painting of any size. Consequently, the invited artist must either drastically cut his price, send an older and less representative painting, send a small painting, or refuse the invitation rather than make one of these concessions. The artists have been very cooperative in most cases and have made the price concession.

I think that it is now time either to raise the purchase ante to $750 or make the $400 a prize (no purchase) or break it up into two or three prizes.

I'd like to thank each artist and all members of the Exhibits Committee for this show and all others during this year. I hope that other interested persons realize the hours and energy spent on this program.

St. Patrick's Day, and their 8½-year-old daughter was born on Washington's birthday.

KIT ARMSTRONG, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aikman Armstrong, celebrated her birthday with a prolonged party last Saturday that started with dinner, a movie, and then they all returned for a slumber party. Her guests were Patsy Becker, Judy Phelps, Doreen Ong, Andrea Phelps, Sheri Maurin, Carole Anderson, Nancy Goldsworthy, Janet Price and Dana Fricke.

THE JOHN CHAPMANS of Old House Rd. have been in a furor of preparation this past week. Mrs. Chapman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Stevens, arrive today from Webster Groves, Mo. This will be the first time in 12 years that the Chapmans have been able to be with any of their relatives on Thanksgiving. The Stevens plan to be here about a week or 10 days.

MRS. FLOYD STOLLER of Barhite asked me to thank the many people who have worked so hard to make the 1959 Community Chest Drive a success. Although they did not meet the quota set for the year in our area, it is heart warming to see the generosity towards those less fortunate than ourselves.

THERE IS always a lot of news at the C. Tom Crawford home on Sierra Madre Blvd., with four daughters in the family. Carol, their eldest, recently passed her California State Board examination and is now a registered nurse, working at Huntington Memorial Hospital. Chris, their second daughter, also has entered nurses' training.

Last week she was hostess for a meeting of the One Club, an off-campus club of PCC students. At the close of the meeting, which included "pinning" announcements and the traditional passing of chocolates by two members, Honey Wade and Linda Brookman, the girls were joined by the Tyrians, a men's fraternity, for a joint party.

The Crawfords will be observing Thanksgiving with a family dinner which will include the R. I. Crawfords, I. A. Crawfords, A. Robert Armstrongs and Ida Sandstrom with her nephew, Nils Sandstrom. Nils is a recent arrival from Cravais, Finland. He will be truly celebrating Thanksgiving this year after waiting for four years to be admitted into America to live.
